

YANKS DRIVE NAZIS NORTH FROM ROME

MARION AREA EMPLOYMENT CEILINGS SET

WMC Tightens Controls; To Enforce Maximum Number of Workers by July 1.

Employment ceilings will be set for large users of manpower in Marion and nearby areas beginning July 1 under new law-reaching war manpower controls that were announced last week. The Associated Press reported today from the War Relocation Authority (WRA) headquarters in Washington.

The Marion area is one of a number in Ohio for which employment ceilings were ordered by WRA. The Marion area includes Marion, Wyandot, Hardin, Morgan and Crawford counties. The new program will be administered through the Marion Area War Manpower Control Committee, made up of labor and management representatives, and in Crawford and Morgan counties, and committees will perform the same operations.

The Marion area war manpower committee will meet soon at the WMC-U. S. Employment Service office to work out its recommendations for administering the program in the three counties. A number of reports are left to the committee to study and make recommendations. The war labor priority committee and WMC area, state and regional officials will make the final decisions on these points, but they are expected to follow the recommendations of the local committee wherever possible.

Ceilings for Factories Under the program, large employers will be given a ceiling for employment. An arbitrary date will be selected. May 1 for example—with the program providing that none of the three employers may employ more than the number of workers it had on the payroll as of that date.

The Marion committee is expected to recommend what ceilings shall be affected by the program. In larger cities, only plants employing 100 or more are affected; in medium size those employing 50 or more are put under the ceiling program, and in small cities employers of 25 or more are being put under the program. Local conditions will be taken into account in establishing this figure.

Two other important manpower controls were also disclosed today along with the employment ceiling program. One is an order that large employers shall not hire any male workers after July 1 unless 75 per cent of its employment is made up of women workers. This rule will apply except in cases where an employer can show that employment of that percentage of women would be either impossible or impractical.

Male Reduction Ordered Another is a regulation that requires large employers to reduce their male employment by three per cent during a four-month period beginning July 1. By the end of the fifth month, the reduction of male workers must be 5 per cent; by the end of the sixth month the reduction must be 7 per cent, and by the end of the seventh month, 8 per cent.

This program to force the employment of more women in the factories to come is destined to be one of the most important war measures that hold high labor productivity. Thus, over a period of six months there is expected to be a gradual shift of male workers into the factories or concerns producing materials most urgently needed in the war effort.

In the past, concerns working in the war effort were usually free to hire and hold on to many workers as they could. But under the new program, labor priorities will be assigned to the various war plants on the basis of how urgently their products are needed in the prosecution of the war. The employment ceilings will be squeezed down on those not holding high priorities, forcing a small percentage of their workers out of the plants and making them available to industries holding the highest priorities.

Effects of Program These controls, coupled with the new complete authority given to WMC and the USSS over hiring and firing of workers in any line industry, are expected to make more workers available to high priority factories even in the war market areas.

Some use of women workers in war priority factories, and in other employment for business and services not regarded as essential are expected to result.

Cheering Romans Wave Flags and Flowers as Yanks Enter

By DANIEL DE LUCE
AP War Correspondent

ROME, JUNE 4—(Delayed)—This cradle of the western world rocked tonight with the high wind of freedom, stirred by the Fifth army and thousands of Italian partisans flaunting red flags.

Behind a screen of Roman volunteers who wore hammer and sickle armbands and waved old firearms, American forces drove from suburban Centocelle to the Tiber river while half smothered with kisses and roses.

The German Wehrmacht, which once swore Rome was an open city, fought furiously in the ancient streets to delay the American thrust.

Wherever the Americans moved forward today against hit and run Nazi armored forces they found Italians—all ages and degrees of poverty—ready to die for "the liberation."

"Why were you so long coming? We expected you four months ago," said some of the partisans.

But others lying dead across German machine guns they had tried to seize barehanded, or waiting in unwhispering silence for their wounds to be bandaged, asked no questions.

All Want To Help

"I saw a 10-year-old boy carrying ammunition for his elder brother on sniper patrol. A gray-haired peasant in his middle fifties, begged to be put into action. A dark-haired girl with a bandolier insisted 'me partisan, too.'"

By military standards the battle for Rome was merely a heavy skirmish with the objectives temporarily being to secure the Tiber bridges. From just behind the leading tank, however, I found the struggle as hard on the senses as getting hit between the eyes with brass knuckles.

Several tanks and one heavy self-propelled gun held up our armor for seven hours at a point five miles outside Rome. But the allied commander accepted unusual risks rather than bring down a devastating fire on areas where civilians might be sheltering or cultural treasures harmed.

As the final push sent General Sherman tanks clattering through Centocelle's alleyways and green fields, their machineguns drove scores of German snipers from cover. Italian partisans rode the American tanks or preceded them like game beaters.

"I'll bet there are enough fascist party badges in the Tiber today to make the fish sick," said one officer.

Near the San Lorenzo rail yards in Rome the partisans shrilly warned of a German 88 about 200 yards behind the next corner. Light tanks swerved and hit it from the rear while weeping mothers murmured blessings, kissed the hands of the tank destroyer crewmen and lifted up their children to be kissed on the cheek.

When a few seconds after the first tanks crossed under the arch of Porta Maggiore, one of the gates of Rome, the avenue ahead was filled with what seemed all of the population of Rome. Crowds in order to clasp our hands waded through water from a water main broken by the Germans in destroying a Fiat factory.

Italians shrieked curses at a captured German as he blinked owl-like through horn-rimmed spectacles.

They cried at the sight of a dying American soldier. Moonlight shone through a gauzy mist as our infantry silently, in Indian file, encircled the forum and the Palazzo Venezia where Mussolini's balcony hung empty.

Lt. Robertson (address ungiven) commanding one of the leading platoons, stationed men before the Palazzo Venezia and the Vittorio Emanuele monument after a sharp and bloody street fight a block away.

Despite the ambush fighting of the Germans inside Rome's walls, religious and cultural treasures apparently escaped damage.

Even when a German machinegun crackled in the Via Nazionale welcoming Italians sought only temporary cover, then linked arms again with the doughboys.

Some Romans died today in the fight for freedom, cigars between their lips and cheers in their throats.

JAPS DRIVING TO SPLIT CHINA

Act To "Foil U. S. Strategy"; Enemy Risks 70 Planes at Biak and Loses 30.

By The Associated Press
The Japanese war octopus is turning against ever-heavier allied air blows on five of its far-flung tentacles but Tokyo radio said today "an offensive which will cut China in two and foil American strategy" is ready.

Allied aerial successes were reported in new assaults in New Guinea operations in the southwest Pacific, against the Kurile Islands in the north Pacific and on Truk in the central Pacific.

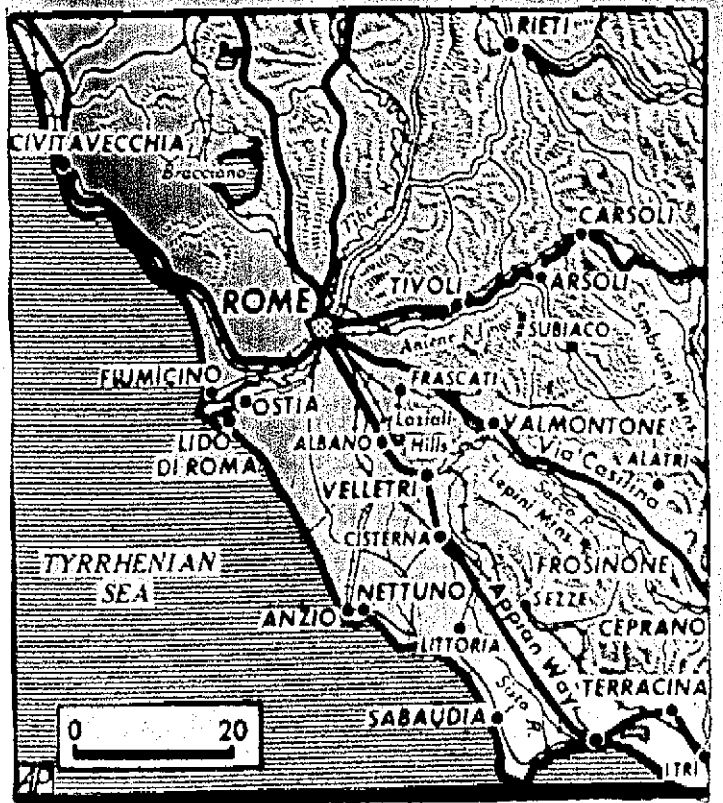

In the vital China theater where Chinese troops are trying to stop the Japanese advance on Changsha in Hunan province, American airmen harassed the invaders.

And in the India-Burma theater an allied operational summary said "overwhelming air superiority" was a major factor in placing these campaigns in favorable positions before the monsoons curtailed progress. "Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten announced gains of 200 yards in bitter fighting for Japan's Myitkyna base in north Burma and Japanese withdrawal from Mamsum at the western end of the north Burma front."

Japs Nearer Changsha While the Tokyo radio talked of Japan's readiness "to launch the most formidable offensive ever against the allies," Japanese troops edged closer to Changsha. The invaders' main force was 40 miles east-northeast of the city, another 35 miles north and a third 30 miles northeast.

But in northern Hunan the Chinese recaptured Ansiang in their drive on the big Japanese base of Yochow, 35 miles east. In Honan province, 400 miles north, the Chinese pressed on toward Japanese-occupied Loyang from captured Sungshien, 45 miles northeast. Other Chinese troops in Yunnan province crossed the Schwelli river, pushing to within 12 miles of the Japanese base of Tengchung, in their drive into northern Burma.

The Associated Press map above shows the location of Rome and the routes followed by Allied troops in their campaign for occupation of the city, which came to a successful conclusion yesterday. ## War Summary 26 AT ST. MARY GET DIPLOMAS

600 Attend Exercises at Church; Address Given by Rev. Father Lay.

By MARY HERRING
The sixty-fourth annual commencement of St. Mary High school was held yesterday afternoon in the church with 26 seniors receiving diplomas. Students of the high school participated in the services. Rev. Francis Lay, assistant pastor, delivered the sermon address, choosing "The Necessity of Religion in Education" as his theme. Solemn benediction followed with Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor, as the celebrant. Rev. Benedict Ruback O. M. C., of Carey as deacon and Rev. Lay as sub-deacon. The musical program for the ceremonies was played by Miss Rosaline Manzo, organist. Approximately 600 persons witnessed the exercises.

The freshmen boys led the procession. The student body remained standing until the seniors took their places.

In opening his address, Father Lay quoted a command given by Christ to his Apostles before his ascension into heaven, "Going therefore, teach ye all nations," taken from the Gospel for Trinity Sunday. Father Lay pointed out that this divine charter established the church which Christ established as essentially a teaching organization. Hence, he said, the Catholic church is engaged in the field of education, not by chance, nor choice, but in obedience to the mandate of Christ.

Church in Education He explained that although the church was primarily instituted to dispense the means of salvation and to teach the truths necessary for salvation, the task of educating enters into her work.

He likened education without reference to religion as a ship without a rudder, left to flounder upon the waves at the mercy of the winds. "Hence," he said, "the church assumes the task of teaching the secular branches in such a way that religion is the centralizing, unifying and vitalizing force in the educational process. For this reason she has established her parochial school system."

He gave three reasons justifying this religious training. First, the Catholic people realize that the spiritual interests of the child.

BLOOD DONOR UNIT HERE FOR 3 DAYS

Today's Quota Filled; More Needed for Tuesday.

The Red Cross Blood Donor Unit arrived today from Columbus and set up temporary headquarters in the basement of Epworth Methodist church for a three-day stay. The visit this week marks the eighth time Marion city and county residents have responded to the call for volunteers to donate a pint of blood each as a gift to the men and women in the armed forces.

Today's quota of 200 volunteers was practically filled at noon today, barring last-minute cancellations, but at least 17 more are needed for Tuesday. Miss Esther Gathers, registration chairman, stated. The 11th-hour cancellations were due to colds, the records show.

The hours today are from 12:30 to 4:45 p. m. and the same hours prevail for Tuesday. Wednesday the hours will be from 10 a. m. to 2:15 p. m.

Persons reporting to donate blood are asked to eat a substantial meal from four to six hours before going to the blood donor center and nothing after eating except fruit juices, coffee without cream or other non-greasy liquid nourishment.

All of the volunteer services are on duty at the blood donor center today. Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, chairman, and the volunteer committee will serve refreshments to the donors throughout the three days, and registrations are in charge of Miss Gathers and her committee. Other committees on duty are the Gray Ladies of which Mrs. John Courtwright is chairman, the nurses aides, headed by Mrs. J. A. Dodd, chairman, the motor corps with Mrs. Robert LaMarche, chairman. Registered nurses on duty were arranged for by Dr. Harold K. Mouser, a member of the committee, and were provided through the Nurses' Registry in charge of Miss Marie Fulton.

1,250 Planes Hammer Coast

2,200 Short Tons of Bombs Blast German Invasion Defenses.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 5.—Approximately 1,250 American heavy bombers and fighters—leading an allied aerial assault of powerful proportions against the fortified French coast—smashed military installations in the Boulogne and Calais areas today with an estimated 2,200 short tons of bombs.

This was the fourth attack in a row against the Pas De Calais, the area of France closest to England, and it came after RAF bombers attacked French coast objectives and targets in Cologne, Germany, last night.

Watchers on the English coast facing Boulogne could see enemy rocket shells rising from the ground, leaving a thin white trail of smoke and exploding high in the air.

Three Hours To Pass For more than three hours powerful fleets of American and British bombers thundered across the English channel.

Since June began the more than 200 miles of French coast line—bristling with German guns—has been shaken from end to end by allied bombs.

The big British bombers made it their targets for the third consecutive night last night. The U. S. Eighth air force has neglected strategic targets deeper in the continent for the last four days to concentrate on immediate tactical targets behind the invasion wall.

It is estimated that well over 13,000 tons of bombs have been dumped on France by American and British heavy bombers alone in the last 72 hours.

The greater part of this devastating weight of explosives has fallen in the Pas De Calais area and on Nazi strong points surrounding the channel ports of Boulogne, Calais, Dieppe and Dunkerque. The rest has been aimed mostly at road and rail communications as deep into northern France as Paris.

No RAF Planes Lost The British did not lose a single plane in the night operations.

The raids last night appeared comparatively small in scale, but the allied aerial offensive gained momentum by daylight. As one powerful force of American bombers returned another roared out. The sky over the Dover strait later became clouded, but there was no sign of a slackening of the attack.

For one period of about a half-hour aircraft passed over Folkestone with a roar like that of express trains rushing through tunnels. Waves of medium bombers were recognized, as well as very large numbers of Thunderbolts and Mustangs.

At noon the German radio reported "single enemy raiders were over Bavaria." These might have (Turn to AIR RAIDS, Page 2)

JOIN GULF'S "Anti-Breakdown" CLUB TODAY!

BEFORE THIS WAR IS OVER, there may be only two kinds of people in America...

1. those who can still get to work in automobiles.
2. those who are forced to walk.

If you would like to keep yourself in the fortunate group who will still be riding to work in automobiles, join Gulf's "Anti-Breakdown" Club today. How do you do it? Just come in for Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan!

This plan was conceived by experts in car care. Gulf developed it because car maintenance is a most important civilian job these days. (The Government says civilian car maintenance is one of the services essential to winning the war, because 8 out of 10 war workers need their cars to get to work.)

Here's Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan..

It protects your car at 39 danger points!

GULF's Protective Maintenance Plan includes Gulfex Registered Lubrication which reaches up to 39 vital engine, body, and chassis points with six different Gulfex Lubricants that reduce wear, and add miles to your car's life.

2

It helps keep your motor in "A-1" shape!

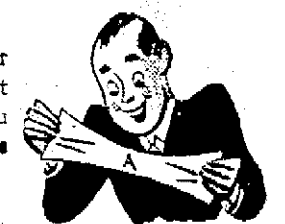

IT'S IMPORTANT to change your oil regularly... and to give your car a really good motor oil. Gulf offers two outstanding oils... Gulfpride, "The World's Finest Motor Oil," and Gulfube, an extra-quality oil that costs a few cents less.

3

It helps stretch your gas coupons!

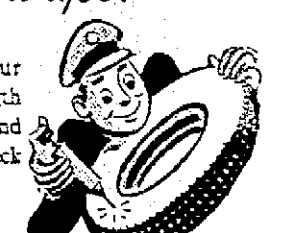

ASK YOUR GULF DEALER to clean your spark plugs, clean your air filter, and flush out your radiator, three things that help give you more mileage per gallon of gas... sometimes as much as 10% more mileage!

It makes your tires last longer!

ASK YOUR GULF DEALER to have your tires recapped, adding greatly to their length of service. Ask him to inspect for cuts and bruises, and make needed repairs... to check air pressures, and inflate tires properly.

Get an appointment at your Gulf station..

To HELP YOUR Gulf Dealer do a thorough job on your car—make an appointment in advance. Phone or speak to him at the station—arrange a convenient time. Then you should encounter no delay when you get Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan... 15 services in all!

Gasoline powers the attack... Don't waste a drop!

...for better car care today... to avoid breakdowns tomorrow

Public Warning!

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

War-time living conditions may be the cause of spreading Pin-Worm infection. Scientific reports indicate that many communities have shown at least one-third of the examined children and grown-ups to be victims of Pin-Worms—often without knowing what was wrong. Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself: the annoying, unbearable itching of the rectum; loss of appetite; nervousness; dizziness; headache; and a general feeling of uneasiness. New Discovery Method by Doctors After centuries of ineffective treatment by Pin-Worms, a new and highly effective way to deal with the stubborn pest has recently been discovered. This scientific discovery, based on the latest medical authorities, is a safe, reliable drug (gentian violet). It is the only medicine in P. W. that is not in small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to destroy the creature. So don't take chances with Pin-Worms. At the first warning sign, use our drug. It's the only way to destroy the creature. Pin-Worms are Pin-Worms!

YANK SENDS WIFE PORTRAIT

By The United Press. RICHMOND, Va.—It isn't every day that a wife gets an oil portrait of her husband of overseas, but that's what Mrs. Elmer F. Le Moyne found when she unwrapped a 34 millimeter gun shell container the other day. Her husband, Warren, officer Le Moyne, wrote that a young Italian artist, Vasco, had completed the painting in about 96 hours of snatched free moments at the Cassino front. The artist had been with the Italian army in Sicily, and when the coast artillery battalion to which Le Moyne is attached moved into Italy, one of the men "discovered" Vasco, and he has moved right along with the battalion ever since.

Mid-West Seen Reasonably Secure For G.O.P.; Seaboard Area '44 Battleground

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 5.—If a Presidential election were held today with Franklin D. Roosevelt heading the Democratic ticket and Thomas E. Dewey the Republican, the Middle West and Rocky Mountain regions as a whole could be counted reasonably sure for Dewey, and virtually the entire South sure for Roosevelt, while the eastern and western seaboard areas would constitute the principal battleground of the election.

A picture of the strength and weakness of the two parties today by geographical sections, which may have an important bearing on the choice of nominees for President and vice-president, is revealed in the latest political survey by the institute.

The sections reasonably sure for Dewey, if he is the Republican candidate, are the East Central, West Central and Rocky Mountain. In those sections, 51 percent or more of civilian voters say they would prefer Dewey to Roosevelt. The total number of electoral votes in the three sections combined is 167, as compared to 148 for the South.

In the coastal regions forming the main battleground of this year's election—the New England and Middle Atlantic states on one side of the continent and the Pacific coast states on the other—Roosevelt leads by a slight margin. When matched against Dewey, he polls 51-52 percent of the major party popular vote in the three regions. If the Republicans can wipe out that slight

Networks To Stage Special Bond Shows

NEW YORK, June 5.—Again each of the networks will have a "bond day" when the Fifth War Loan gets under way June 12. The various days will be spaced throughout the drive as in previous campaigns.

The first is on NBC June 13, followed by CBS June 17, CBS June 20 and the Big June 24. On those days each network will direct its entire schedule to bonds, using both special announcements and programs. Several hour-long broadcasts are to be included.

Eddie Cantor is to devote his Wednesday night program on NBC to announcing the winner of the $5,000 fund he is establishing for after-war use of a typical "G. I. Joe."

This little bout with his own reflection cost the battling Irishman $10 and fifteen days in jail.

"BEST" LITTLE GRAND CIRCUIT MEETING OPENS THURSDAY

County Fairgrounds Humming With Pre-Race Activity

IT WAS a case of wholesale invasion of the sprawling county fairgrounds Saturday and today by countless horsemen, drivers, trainers and stable hands who will help launch Marion's Little Grand Circuit harness race meeting Thursday. The meet, which is for the benefit of the women's board of the City hospital, will extend until June 24—a 15-night jamboree of the "spot of kings".

Frank Foster, secretary of the Marion, trotting a sensation and commander-in-chief of the collection meeting, said upwards of 170 horses were expected today. The Marion plant can accommodate about 225 horses. Approximately 300 horses will race in the meet. This means that about 75 horses will have to be placed in the exact location being the Delaware county fairgrounds.

All available stalls at the Marion county fairgrounds have either been filled or reserved by stables from all over the country. The barns were expected to be full by today and most certainly by tomorrow for the opening of the meet in only three days. Big stables that have stables in the Marion are those trained by Eddie Havens of Piquette, N. C., Jake Mahoney of Toledo, Tom Barry of Lexington, Ky., and Wayne "Curly" Smart of Delaware. Havens is training for the A. L. Derby stable of Wichita, Kan., Mahoney for the Saunders-Mill stable, Smart is training Eva's Boy, top starter of Walter J. Michael, Dugruss Industrialist, Eva's Boy is one of the favorites to win the 1944 Hambletonian, the harness race classic.

Foster enthusiastically said that the prospects for this year's meet are bright. He commented that undoubtedly the best of horses over on a half-mile track for one race meeting. They are the cream of the crop. This will be Marion's best harness race meeting.

A heavy rain Friday night did the half-mile country fairgrounds course a world of good. The turf was packed down by the rain and although it was a little slushy for work outs Saturday, the track will be in the best of condition by post time Thursday night. Horses from many stables were through their paces in work outs Saturday at the fairgrounds, including Volo Song and King's Counsel, the two stars of the E. J. Baker stable of St. Charles, Ill., Harry Fitzpatrick, ex-driver-trainer from DuQuoin, Ill., piloted both horses in their practice runs. The Baker stable, consisting of 11 head, without a doubt is the richest entered in this meet in the matter of the value of the horses. Estimated value of the Baker entries for the local meet is $120,000. Volo Song leads the list, being valued at $50,000. King's Counsel was purchased by Mr. Baker for $20,000 from Dr. Hugh Marshall of Urbana, sometimes referred to as "Mr. Racing" himself. Algers, a colt, brought the highest price of any yearling. Mr. Baker laid down $15,500 for him.

Other prominent stables whose horses have arrived at the fairgrounds are Byron Perry of Urbana, Van Camp stables of Cincinnati, Baxter stables of Pontiac, Mich., Earl Roush of Canton (10 head), Bob Plaxico of Canton (14 head), Ebel stable of Wauseon, Bi Shively of Duxbury, Kan., Bob Mason of Mt. Vernon, Herman Ross of Dayton (nine head), Denny Scheel of Shelbyville, Ind., (six head), Avalon stables of Lafayette, Ind., (five head), Sep

Herb Petrich was low medalist for the Country Club team with an 18-hole total of 79, consisting of nine hole scores of 39 and 40. Don McAnich paced Mar-O-Del with nine hole totals of 40 and 41 for an 81. Individual matches were played, with the winner of the first nine getting one point, the winner of the second nine winning a point and the golfer with the lower 18-hole total winning a third point.
Played as a side attraction to the inter-club match was a blind bogey tournament in which golfers from both clubs participated. Four golfers tied for first prize with a score of 79—Jim Loyda, Joe Slenser, Fred Sage and George Small. Leo Groll chalked up the low number of putts, 26. Herb Petrich had the most 4's, for the 18 holes, eight, and Marion Hinklin had most 7's.

Crystal Lake Draws Large Sunday Crowd
Approximately 2,000 persons seeking relief from summer heat took advantage of Crystal Lake's swimming and recreational facilities Sunday, the park management reported today. Some 1,200 of these were swimmers and the remainder picknickers or onlookers.
This attendance was the largest since the opening Memorial Day when there were 2,200 bathers and spectators.
The park is open throughout the week from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Park officials report attendance holds up well after dark, especially since installation of a flood lighting system was completed last Thursday. Twenty-four hour supervision of the park pools and other facilities is maintained.
Other improvements have been made at the park—including improvements of concession stands, and construction of new diving boards. Resurfacing of roadways leading from Route 4 to Crystal Lake park started today. A new parking lot to accommodate cars of park patrons has been laid out. Both the deep pool for advanced swimmers and the small, enclosed pool for children and beginners are replenished at regular intervals with new supplies of water. Walter Lingo of LaRue, widely-known sportsman, is manager of the park this year.

Mrs. Hope Awaiting the Day When Bob's Work Won't Keep Him Away
By The United Press
HOLLYWOOD—A girl appreciates the little things—even if she's the wife of one of the world's most famous comedians.
"Bob calls me after every broadcast and asks for criticism," Mrs. Bob Hope said with a whimsical smile. "Of course, he always tries to argue me out of my ideas, but it makes me feel good to think that he considers my opinion important."
"Sometimes, when he's all through arguing, he even takes my advice," she added.
Mrs. Hope is five feet, six inches tall, with blue eyes and light brown hair. Her famous husband of the two-faced comeback and overseas popularity calls her his exclusive pin-up girl, because he can count on her to laugh at nobody's jokes but his own.
As Helen Reece, she was a successful night-club singer, but as Mrs. Hope she has exchanged the bandstand for a nursery. The Hopes have two children, Linda, four, and Tony, three.
Mrs. Hope, along with a world of women, is waiting for the day when her husband's suit case will start gathering dust in the attic. She looks at the war philosophically.
"There is, of course, nothing good about war, but it has forced many people into situations that have been good for them," she said. "I don't have help of any kind now, and I have to spend all of my time just caring for the children. I have come to know them better because of it and it will be much more successful in raising them to be good Americans."
Mrs. Hope is not seen in night-club and she reads for entertainment. Asked what she reads, she sheepishly admitted that her bookshelves are stocked chiefly with the classics and books on philosophy.
"While Bob is away I'm trying to find out what it's all about," she said. "Of course, I don't know now, but I hope to before I do."
Defying any trends to the contrary, she is a woman convinced that her husband is a great man doing a big job, and she's satisfied to wait at home while he's gone and be there when he gets back.
"I have tried to give him a peaceful home life so that he would be free to work," she said, "but that is nothing more than a million other women are doing."

Scouts of Marion Attend Camporee
Seven Troops in Activities at Camp Owens.
Over 50 Boy Scouts and 8 girls attended a camporee held Saturday and Sunday at Camp Owens, 25 miles west of Marion, where the Scouts of Marion district of the Boy Scouts of America arrived in camp at 2 p. m. Saturday and left at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon.

In second place was Troop 1, sponsored by the First Baptist church. Troop 2, under the sponsorship of Thomas Edison Junior High school, took third place with 322 points. Seven troops from Marion took part.
Purpose of the camporee was to teach Scouts to take care of themselves in camping. They slept outdoors, building their own shelters and cooking their own meals. Among features were a campfire on Saturday night at which each troop presented a skit and a "quiz" Miller, Harding area commissioner, asked. The quiz, they said, was to test the Scouts' knowledge of the Scout law. The quiz was given by the Scouts' own members. The camporee was a success. 1,500 Attend Co. M Jamboree at Armory
Approximately 1,500 merry-makers turned out Saturday night for the Co. M Jamboree, given by the local Ohio State Guard unit at the Armory as a closing celebration for the present dance season. Members of the Ladies Auxiliary assisted guard men with the concessions and the atmosphere resembled a small carnival with only sawdust lacking to make it complete.
Admission was free but persons who wished to participate in the fun had to purchase "army hux" which were used for both merchandise and the various games. The ball pitching booth attracted the men who wished to give their pitching arm a workout and women were interested in the dart games. One of the guardsmen was decked out as a "Madame" fortune teller and was kept busy throughout the evening telling past, present and future events of "her" customers.
A band concert was given early in the evening by the Eagles band followed by a dancing program featuring Miss Betty Knappenberg and some of her pupils. Dance numbers included a fast military tap by Ruth Granger; a military and acrobatic tap by Marilyn Neville; "La Campanella" by Winifred Daly and a rope dance by Patty Graham. Miss Granger, Miss Knappenberg and Miss Daly later presented a Conrad tap dance with a slide rhythm number by Miss Knappenberg and James Melby completing the program.
At the close of the entertainment, music for both round and square dancing was played by Milroy's orchestra.
Drill will be held Tuesday night. The first league ball game will be held Thursday night at Lincoln park.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I JERKED myself into attention, putting aside all conjectures concerning the meaning of Lee Chow's cryptic expression as distinctly outside the present emergency. No matter, I reflected, everything carried in my memory—these words and the familiar ring of them, just past, and it behooved me to clear my brain for action.

"In that case," I said quickly, "I had better tell you now everything that happened after you went upstairs, and the plans that I have made for the household during my absence. Then my brain—what is left of it—will be clear of everything but your instructions."

Not Worried

"I'm not worrying about the quantity—or quality—of your brain remnant," he said dryly. "But please let us have the saga including the part which Katie played. I think, if I stick around here, I shall count that near best which does not furnish some article of Katie's."

"Oh, she sleeps sometimes!" I rejoined laughing.

"Sure she doesn't walk in her sleep?" he countered, and I realized that whether he was conscious of it or not, he was undoubtedly prolonging a conversation for which there was little time, if I were to get sufficient rest before starting on my journey in the morning.

"I'm sure she doesn't," I said, and purposely there was that in my voice which recalled him—a unpleasantly, I imagined—to the business in hand.

To Begin

"Sorry!" he said abruptly. "I'm forgetting how early you have to get up and how much there is to be done. Will you please start on your story at once?"

I do not think I omitted a single word or action in the tale of the happenings after he and Lee Chow had gone down to the secret chamber, following their interview with "Mr. X," the FBI man who had revealed his identity to me just before I had banded his eyes. I tried to mimic Katie's outburst faithfully, and must have succeeded, for both he and Lee Chow laughed heartily at the recital.

I took them up to the moment when I had heard the car of the gangsters roaring down the road, the driver evidently impelled by fear of the Coast Guards for whom they believed I had telephoned. I even included the wink and murmured "Brava" which "Mr. X" had managed to give me.

Then I paused, literally out of breath, before finishing with my plans for the household during my absence, and Hugh spoke for the first time since I had begun what he had chosen to dub my "saga."

Clever Touch

"That was a clever touch, putting the fear of the Coast Guards into them," he said approvingly. "Indeed, your handling of the whole thing has been one hundred per cent. As for 'Mr. X,' that is just what he would do. He's a combination of misanthropic and cunning, sober plotting that is hard to beat. And now I know you're anxious to be off. What are your plans for the household tomorrow?"

"You and Lee Chow wish to stay down here until my father arrives?"

"Yes, and longer still if he decides it is best," he said. "From the time he gets here, I am in his hands, thanks whatever gods there be!"

"Then," I said, "the household upstairs will consist of Mother Graham, Faith and Katie on the staff side, while Jim and the boys carry on as guards and general factotums. The boys are now taking turns standing watch until morning, and they will share with Jim and Katie the work of the farmhouse. They will bring you your meals, keep a general watch on things, and do general chores."

Coming

"Besides," I went on, "as you know, Jerry Tier is coming over tomorrow morning before I take the train, to remain all day. So I am sure everything will be all right until I get back."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Medical Research

There was once a scientific researcher who was the despair of all his rivals on account of the number and brilliance of his discoveries. Once he was asked how he got his ideas for his investigations and he replied: "Remembering old wife's tales."

The history of medicine is sprinkled with discoveries based on that kind of inspiration. The fact that you have never had and never will have smallpox is due to the fact that about a hundred and fifty years ago a doctor practicing in a dairy country wondered whether there was anything in the old saying that milk maids who got cowpox on their fingers never got smallpox.

In the time of Napoleon a young medical student in Paris demonstrated to all the professors the cause of the itch because he remembered the old market woman in his native Cuzco used to pick the itch insect out of the skin of their hands with a needle. The old ladies who used to look for spring so they could get out and pick a mess of greens to get the scurf off their hands could teach us a lot about vitamins.

One of the persistent rumors of the country side is about the human barometer who can tell when it's going to rain by the way his scapula starts to act up. For years the doctors have been laughing at the absurdity of this belief, but now it's gotten into the text books.

In fact on this idea depends some of the principal tests for our old friend sciatica. Sciatica was so named because it is pain in the region and distribution of one of the sciatic nerves. The sciatic nerves arise from the spinal cord and from between the last two of the vertebrae. They go down the back of the leg and are mostly sensory rather than motor, which means they convey sensations of pain and touch and temperature.

Sciatica has always been known as a pesky ailment. It lasts a long time and comes and goes and there has been up to now very little you could do for it. The patients are not neurotics and every doctor who ever treated one has had a feeling that the cause was some irritation or pressure on the nerve.

Within the last few years it is pretty well established what that pressure is at least in many cases. It is a tear with protrusion of the center of the cartilaginous disk that separates the vertebrae. This dislocated part of the disk presses on the sciatic nerve as it emerges from the spinal canal and causes the pain.

One thing that confirms this idea of the cause of sciatica is that anything that increases pressure inside the body makes the sciatic pain worse. So one test of the intervertebral disk syndrome is to make the patient sneeze or cough and note whether the pain is worse at that time. A doctor friend of mine gives them a pinch of snuff to bring this on—the snuff test. Another test is to squeeze the veins on the side of the neck which produces congestion of the veins lower down around the spinal cord and pushes the disk against the nerve.

Now as to the weather man part. It is known that the intervertebral disk has the property of absorbing sixteen times its own volume of water. It takes the water up and lets it go according
